IT-Fabrik GmbH: Desktop-as-a-Service for SMEs and competent IT consulting

Weßling, January 2021 — IT-Fabrik GmbH in Weßling near Munich has successfully established itself internationally as a managed service provider and DaaS provider for SMEs and corporations with the expertise of a certified Microsoft partner. The dedicated experts at IT-Fabrik GmbH also provide customized IT and cloud consulting services.

Comprehensive IT services for companies: Seize opportunities, minimize risks, strengthen core business

The services offered by the IT full-service provider from Weßling include comprehensive IT and cloud services as well as well thought-out business continuity management, which effectively protects corporate processes from risks with significant damage potential.

Through cloud services, IT-Fabrik relieves its corporate customers of the costs and security risks that are inevitably associated with operating a company's own IT infrastructure.

Outsourcing a company's IT to IT-Fabrik as a managed service provider frees up personnel and financial resources that are additionally available to IT-Fabrik GmbH's corporate customers to strengthen their core business.

Certification as a Microsoft Partner enables IT-Fabrik GmbH to always offer its customers the IT solutions that best suit their individual needs.

Cloud solutions from IT-Fabrik GmbH: Increase productivity with Desktop-as-a-Service (DaaS)

IT-Fabrik's DaaS service helps companies to significantly improve their productivity.

The Desktop-as-a-Service service offering consists of a cloud solution in which the virtual desktop infrastructure is outsourced to IT-Fabrik GmbH's servers. Cloud computing involves the provision of IT services via the Internet (including hardware and software) to accelerate innovation, deploy resources more flexibly, and exploit economies of scale.

Business customers value the DaaS offering from IT-Fabrik GmbH in Weßling as a cost-effective IT solution that ensures a high level of availability and performance. The benefits of IT-Fabrik GmbH's DaaS services include improved IT performance and smooth applications. During the implementation of the DaaS applications, IT-Fabrik provides a hybrid environment, avoiding downtime during the migration. The transition to the new DaaS is facilitated by cost-effective implementation and low installation effort.

After implementing DaaS, the required applications and virtual desktops are available to a company's employees at any time and from any location on any end device.

A wide variety of companies benefit from the DaaS service provided by IT Fabrik GmbH - for example, when teamwork is distributed across different locations or when IT is intended to be used during a business trip. Craft businesses like to use their end devices with the help of DaaS during external customer appointments. DaaS services from IT-Fabrik have also proven particularly helpful for home office work.

Professional IT consulting by experienced IT-Fabrik GmbH consultants

Many years of experience enable the experts at IT-Fabrik GmbH to provide comprehensive consulting services to companies of all sizes on all information and communications technology issues. In doing so, the consultants at IT-Fabrik consistently focus on the business processes of the respective company and on the specific needs in the IT area. The goal of every consultation is to optimize the efficiency of work processes and provide the best possible support for a company's long-term growth.

Other important services: Software development, databases, IoT

As an IT full-service provider, IT-Fabrik is also available to its corporate customers - beyond IT services and IT consulting - for the development of required software solutions and the management of databases. In addition, IT-Fabrik develops hardware solutions for the IoT (Internet of Things) for its customers.

Availability always, reliable support service

Reliable support through good accessibility of IT-Fabrik's experts is ensured by a combination of support available by phone, remote maintenance of all IT systems and on-site service. A technical expert (and his or her deputy) is permanently assigned to each of the companies supported by IT-Fabrik. Contractually defined response times and guaranteed response times ensure consistently reliable support.

Basic Data Protection Regulation: Companies ensure unlimited data security with the support of IT-Fabrik GmbH

The General Data Protection Regulation (DS-GVO) places high demands on the collection and processing of personal data. Companies face heavy fines if data protection regulations are violated.

The experienced consultants at IT-Fabrik GmbH provide their corporate customers with expert support in properly implementing the requirements of the DS-GVO. As part of a data protection audit, the IT-Fabrik consultants uncover any data protection gaps in discussions with company representatives and actively assist in the development of a comprehensive data protection concept.
